1. INTENT

The Canadian Hearing Society (CHS) is committed to treating all people in a way that allows them to maintain their dignity and independence. We believe in integration and we are committed to meeting the needs of people with disabilities in a timely manner, and will do so by preventing and removing barriers to accessibility and meeting accessibility requirements under the Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act. Our commitments are further defined in five areas as follows:

- Communication and Information
- Employment
- Built Environment
- Transportation
- Procurement and Partnerships

2. GUIDELINES

2.01 COMMUNICATION AND INFORMATION

CHS is committed to meeting the information and communication needs of people with disabilities across mediums including website, print, sign language and alternative formats upon request. As needed, we will consult with people with disabilities or individuals to determine their information and communication needs.

DOCUMENTS

1. Information will be written in plain language, formatted for accessibility and priority pieces will be translated into sign languages (ASL and LSQ).
2. Guidelines for plain language and formatting for accessibility:

Chapter	Accessibility	Policy No.	5.22

Plain language is communication your audience can understand the first time they read it. Language that is plain to one set of readers may not be plain to others. No one technique defines plain language. Rather, plain language is defined by results - it is easy to read, understand, and use. Written material is in plain language if your audience can:

- Find what they need;
- Understand what they find; and
- Use what they find to meet their needs.

Formatting for Accessibility

i. Fonts

- ◆ Arial font is mandatory for all CHS documents. It is easier to read than serif fonts like Garamond or decorative ones like Script.
- ◆ All public documents must be 12 point or larger.
- ◆ Don't use ALL CAPS. Mixing upper and lower case gives words shape, which makes them easier to recognize and read.
- ◆ Use bold instead of underlines or italics (as they can be hard to read).

ii. Layout

- ◆ Chunk information into bulleted or numbered lists.
- ◆ Write clearly and use short sentences.
- ◆ Align text with the left margin. Don't justify text as the extra spaces between words make it harder to read.
- ◆ Use wide margins and leave space between lines – ideally 25-30% of the point size. Closely spaced text is hard to read.

iii. Colour & Contrast

- ◆ High contrast is easy to read. Black text on white or yellow is best.
- ◆ Don't use colour alone to convey meaning (for example, highlighting text to show its importance). Use descriptive text or symbols instead.
- ◆ Don't use patterned backgrounds or print on glossy materials.

iv. Digital documents

- ◆ Use tables instead of columns.
- ◆ Format your document using styles (like heading 1, heading 2) to help screen reader software.
- ◆ Don't use flashing images or text.
- ◆ Add a written description (or "alt tag") to diagrams, images or charts.
- ◆ Captions, ASL and LSQ translations may also be appropriate.
- ◆ Please review Language Policy for more information.
- ◆ Add a transcript for spoken content.

v. Presentations

- ◆ Organize your presentation so it is logical and easy to follow.
- ◆ Keep slides short – no more than three sentences per slide.
- ◆ Bigger is better. Use at least 16-point font in presentations.
- ◆ Be ready with printed and electronic versions of the presentation. Copies of your speaking notes can help too.
- ◆ Share your presentation in advance.
- ◆ If you use diagrams, sound or video, think about how to explain the content to someone who has visual requirements.

vi. Signage

- ◆ Keep text short.
 - ◆ Use common symbols or images to explain important information.
 - ◆ Don't overlap words and images.
 - ◆ Don't use shiny or reflective materials.
 - ◆ Add raised elements that can be read by touch.
 - ◆ Place the sign where it's easy to see from different heights.
 - ◆ Make sure it's well lit
3. Videos will be captioned. Additionally, original footage will be shot with visibility in mind. Clear lighting, unobscured body and facial movements, and smooth camera orientation will be encouraged. When selecting footage from third-party sources, videos which adhere to these standards will be preferred. Voice captioning will be provided for those with vision requirements.
4. Upon request, other formats and/or communication supports will be provided. When it is not possible, we will provide the requestor with an explanation and summary of the information or communications.

Exceptions: Information or communications that cannot be converted and products or product labels that CHS has no control over. However, CHS must still take into account a person's disability when communicating with them about their products, such as verbally informing a customer with vision loss about their DVD selection.

WEBSITES

The December 2013 version of the CHS public website is required to meet or exceed the Working Group Web Content Accessibility Guidelines 2.0 Level A (WCAG 2.0 Level A) by January 1, 2014 and WCAG2.0 Level AA by January 1, 2021. The exceptions are live captioning and pre-recorded audio descriptions.

The CHS internal website is not required to meet WCAG 2.0 Level A or AA. However, CHS will voluntarily apply the standards to our internal website as per regulations to the extent that is feasible.

Where website accessibility does not meet individual requirements and upon request, CHS will work with individuals in a timely manner to make the content accessible to them in some way. Employee accommodation plans may also address accessibility requirements with regards to CHS websites.

EMERGENCIES

CHS will provide employees with disabilities with individualized emergency response information as requested. These plans will be reviewed to remain effective and up-to-date at least annually or in the event of a transfer or changes to the facilities, etc. If the employee also has a workplace accommodation plan then both plans will be reviewed together.

Emergency closures will be communicated internally and externally according to the Office Closure policy. CHS will endeavor to maintain systems to contact disabled individuals to inform them of an emergency closure before they begin travelling to CHS; or as appropriate, to explain alternatives.

When developing emergency information, we will consider what would make it difficult for someone with a disability to read, see, hear or understand.

CHS is committed to providing customers and clients with publicly available emergency information in accessible formats upon request.

TRAINING

CHS will provide training to employees and volunteers on Ontario's accessibility laws, the Ontario Human Rights Code, the Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act, and CHS policies as they relate to people with disabilities, as well as other related national legislation.

Training will be provided catered to the duties of employees, and volunteers.

Training will be accessible and will be made available in alternative formats upon request.

FEEDBACK

Upon request, Human Resources is responsible for ensuring that all existing external and internal feedback processes are accessible to people with disabilities.

Our website, documents and signage will clearly inform users/readers that alternative formats for giving feedback are available upon request to Human Resources and that our employees are available to assist at any time.

Print materials such as surveys, etc., will include notice that accessible formats are available upon request to Human Resources.

2.02 EMPLOYMENT

CHS is committed to fair and accessible employment practices and opportunity for advancement for all people with disabilities, in addition to those who are culturally Deaf, oral deaf, deafened and hard of hearing.

EMPLOYEES WITH DISABILITIES

We will make all employees aware of how CHS will support them if they have a disability — or should they acquire a disability later in their career.

Successful applicants will be informed in their letter of offer about CHS' policies on accommodating employees with disabilities. Workplace accommodation plans will be developed and documented.

2.03 BUILT ENVIRONMENT

KIOSKS

CHS will advocate with landlords and venues that we patronize for kiosks that are accessible to our employees and consumers. Lease and venue agreements must consider this requirement with a preference for achieving accessible kiosks whenever possible.

DESIGN OF PUBLIC SPACES

CHS will meet the Accessibility Standards for the design of public spaces when building new public space or making major modifications to our public spaces. Where we do not have control, we will advocate for accessibility unless the project is otherwise excluded under the law. We will give proper notice in advance of service disruptions to accessible areas of our public spaces. Where a blockage is unavoidable, alternatives will be provided and communicated in advance.

Public spaces include:

1. Service-related elements like service counters, fixed queuing lines and waiting areas;
2. Accessible off-street parking;

3. Outdoor paths of travel, like sidewalks, ramps, stairs, curb ramps, rest areas and accessible pedestrian signals. This law does not apply to paths of travel that are regulated by Ontario's Building Code or are designed for a recreational experience;
4. Outdoor public eating areas like rest stops or picnic areas;
5. Outdoor play spaces, like playgrounds in provincial parks and local communities; and
6. Recreational trails/beach access routes.

2.04 TRANSPORTATION

CHS will advocate AODA transportation requirements where it makes sense to do so. When groups travel together, consideration will be given to the needs of persons with disabilities with regards to booking travel whenever possible.

2.05 PROCUREMENT AND PARTNERSHIPS

CHS will incorporate accessibility design, criteria and features when procuring or acquiring goods, services, or facilities, except where it is not practicable to do so. From time to time we may be requesting an AODA compliance report from other organizations as part of the decision-making process. This may make a significant impact on preventing new accessibility barriers and addressing existing ones especially as they relate to our consumers.
